Scenarios:

1. I am a sole proprietorship using an EIN registered to my DBA, can I use the EIN?

Answer: While an EIN can be used to conduct business, the business owner’s personal social security number and full legal name should be used to create the SFS account.

2. I have a multiple owner LLC and I usually provide my personal Social Security number when doing business, is this okay?

Answer: To create an SFS account, you should use the EIN issued to the business/LLC and not your social security number.
